AMERICA'S ENTRANCE INTO WWI AND THE LASTING IMPACT

PRESENTER: ANTHONY TRONCONE, Ph.D.

April marked the 100th Anniversary of President Wilson's appearance before Congress asking it to declare war on the Central Powers in an effort to "have the world made safe for democracy." We are still living in the shadow and consequence of that war and the peace that followed. Dr. Troncone will examine the reasons why the United States entered World War I, and the problems that the nation confronted domestically and internationally as a result of entering the war, the major problems that Wilson confronted in trying to establish a lasting peace, and the shadow the war continues to cast on much of the world today.
